

Rack Clad Buildings

...FOR QUALITY, EFFICIENCY AND SAFETY

Rack clad buildings provide the complete, cost effective storage solution by utilising steel columns already manufactured for cantilever racking within the structure of the building.

Flexible design - Quality construction - Optimum storage

Racks Industries was established in 1980 and has built up a considerable reputation in the manufacture of cantilever racking systems. We can design, fabricate and manufacture clad buildings to meet your individual requirements of size and specification, designed specifically for protecting your product from the elements, whilst maximising storage capacity within the space available.

Rack Clad Buildings

Optimise your Storage Facilities - Inside & Outside

Is your business running out of warehousing space, seeking to improve on-site efficiency or thinking of moving location? If so, we may have the solution with our Rack Clad Buildings.

A rack clad building utilises the racking system as the main integral structure of the unit. Cladding sheets are then affixed to create the wall and roofing areas, erected as either a single skin panel or a full L2A compliant system. Extensive clear spans can be designed for marshaling areas, production or bulk storage.

Benefits of Rack Clad Buildings

- Units can be designed to be either fully or part enclosed
- External storage may be protected by the roof overhang or by a fitted canopy
- Buildings can incorporate roller shutter doors, fire doors or pedestrian doors
- As modular units, a mezzanine floor or office space can easily be added at a later date
- Maximum use of building space for flexible storage, inside and outside

Fully Relocatable ...

The added benefit is that our rack clad buildings are designed for relocation. They can be stripped down and repositioned in other areas of your site or transferred to new locations in a matter of days. This provides the ultimate solution for your logistics requirements, now and in the future.

Racks Industries has over 30 years of experience in producing all types of racking systems for wholesale, manufacturing and retail customers throughout the UK. We can visit your site to discuss requirements and look forward to hearing from you.
